

European Energy Supply Security

SAVE THE DATE - 14 OCTOBER 2010, 2pm-5pm

Energy security is one of the pillars of the European energy policy, but other challenges lie ahead of us, such as the implementation of the 3rd energy package, the upcoming infrastructure package and the new Energy Strategy to be presented by the Commission. In this context, we invite you to the presentation of the result of the CESSA-project (Coordinating Energy Security in Supply Activities), lead by Professors Francois Levêque (Ecole des Mines de Paris) and Jean-Michel Glachant (Florence School of Regulation). The event will highlight the major findings of the project on future energy supply security policies, but also put this in the context of the upcoming debates on the internal market, infrastructure development, and longer-term planning.

Speakers at the event include: Prof. Jean Michel Glachant (Florence School of Regulation), Prof. Ignacio Perez-Arriaga (MIT & Universidad Pontificia Comillas), Prof. Francois Levêque (tbc, Ecole des Mines de Paris), Prof. Christian von Hirschhausen (Berlin University of Technology), Sophia Ruester (Florence School of Regulation), William Nuttall (tbc, University of Cambridge).

The event will take place at Bruegel's offices at 33, Rue de la Charité in Brussels on Thursday 14 October, 2pm-5pm.
